A free, confidential notification service about an offender's release, transfer, or escape from a county jail

Victims have the right to know!

Do not depend solely on this service for your protection. If you feel that you may be at risk, take precautions as if the offender has already been released.

This project was supported by Grant No. 2006VNCX0009 awarded by the Bureau of Justice Assistance. The Bureau of Justice Assistance is a component of the Office of Justice Programs, which also includes the Bureau of Justice Statistics, the National Institute of Justice, the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention, and the Office for Victims of Crime. Pennsylvania's Victim Notification Service

What will this free service do for me?

This free service can let you know if a particular offender is in jail and give you other important custody information. Once you sign up, it can also call you at a phone number of your choice or e-mail you, to let you know when that offender is released, transferred, or escapes.

What do I need to do?

1. Call 1-866-972-7284 from a touch-tone phone and follow the directions. For TTY Users: Please call 1-866-847-1298. A TTY operator will assist you in registering to receive updates about a specific offender.
2. If the offender is in a county jail, you can leave your phone number to be called if that offender is released, transferred, or escapes. Enter the phone number where you want to be reached, including area code, followed by the pound (#) key.
3. When the service asks, enter your own four-digit Personal Identification Number (PIN) code that will be easy for you to remember. Write it on the wallet card provided in this brochure or in a safe place. The service will ask for the PIN code when it calls you.
4. If the service calls, listen to the message. When asked, enter your PIN code plus the pound (#) key. Entering the PIN lets the service know that you got the call, and will stop the service from calling you again.

Write down the following information and keep in a safe place:

Offender name

Offender number

Your four-digit PIN code

If you feel you are at risk, take precautions and contact your local victim services office.

What do I need to know?

- The offender will not know you are registered with this service.

- If you are not home, the service will leave a message on an answering machine. If there is no answer, the service will keep calling for a designated period of time between 24 and 72 hours or until you enter your PIN code.
- Since the service calls automatically when an offender's custody status changes, you may get a call in the middle of the night.
- Do not leave a phone number with the service that rings to a switchboard.
- Do not depend only on this service or any other single program for your protection. If you feel you are at risk, take precautions and contact your local victim services office.
- You can register more than one phone number to be contacted by this service.
- You can also register a phone number or e-mail address on the Internet. Visit:
